He sees a girl of about age 17 who works in the Fiction Department. She looks like the ideal young Party member: wiry, brown hair, curly and fringed, shoulders to the hips. She wears a red dress of a certain shade of blue. He is a member of the Inner Party and has some kind of very important work, although Winston does not know exactly what it is. Winston is attracted to her because she looks so different from the rest.

8. Explain the importance of Emmanuel Goldstein. How does the way he is being treated in Oceania contribute to the hatred of the Party by the masses?
Emmanuel Goldstein is the founder of the Thought Police. He had been a leading member of the Party but then turned against it. All crimes against the Party are attributed to his teaching. His image is shown on the television and in posters around London. Among Party members, he looks forward with envy to his hair and a golden beard. His name is long and fine. He wears glasses. He supposedly committed an act of treason against the Brotherhood.

9. Explain the importance of Big Brother. Also describe the way he is being treated. Big Brother is the leader of the Party. He has black hair, a black mustache, and looks calm and powerful.

10. What crime does the main character commit? How does he do this? What is the punishment?
